Summoning the Clansmen The New York Tribune now stands on the extreme ground and sounds the bugle for the ultra radical policy of Stevens. It cracks the whip over those who are disposed to be conservative among repullicans, and demands as a necessity to make assurance doubly sure, and take a bond of fate." Thus it falsifies in its predictions and counsels no step backward and no concession in the work of 'Trustee's Sale of Real Estate. villainous wrong to which the radical party is doubtless irretrievably com-mitted:

mitted:

Congress must stand by the loyal majority in the South. Should it fail to do so, every State but Tennessee south of the Potomac and the Ohio, with Maryland and Delaware on this side, will be a unit for reconstruction on a white basis which will bring the rebul element into overwhelming ascendancy, as we now see it in Maryland and Kentucky, where no man stands much chance for office who had not at least a son in the rebel army. To faller now—to look away from the To falter now-to look away from the South, and seem intent on securing ma-jorities in the North—is to insure the unchecked ascendancy of our implacable foes throughout the South, and thereby their preponderance in the Union.

Congress cannot recede without ruin.

It must not falter. It stands in the Thermopyle of the universe, where its firmness or weakness determines the fate firmness or weakness determines the late of unborn millions. Should it cower before the cohorts of Caste and Privilege, ours must become a land of nobles and vassals evermore. Let Congress recoil, and the Yankee school-ma'ams will be driven out of the South within three years, and the teaching of negroes to read made a legal crime as it was not read made a legal crime, as it was not quite seven years ago. Let Congress recede, and a "Yankee" will be hunted from the South within three years as though he were a wolf; and the Congress of that day will say he deserved it for being a Yankee. No, we cannot recede. We cannot stand still. We must march right on to universal justice and impar-

Perils from false brethren "-especially from those who have access to cially from those who have access to newspaper columns—must be manfully met, and, if possible, overcome. Half of these cavilers would forbear if they only knew the dangers that must be confronted, even though it were impossible to vanquish them. They are talking in culpable ignorance of facts which it is their duty to learn and comprehend. is their duty to learn and comprehend. Some think it smart to be eternally finding fault with the action of the party they embarrass by affecting to support. But the more formidable share of the present clamor against Congress emanates from men who are not appreciated by the Republicans as they think they should be, and who fancy themselves able, like Samson, to overturn the fabric whereof they have ceased to be pillars, even in their own conceit. The essential impulse of the war upon Con-gress is a design to prostrate the Republican party and effect a new ascendancy promptly to pass Mr. Stevens' bill which excepts the reconstruction acts from review and nullification on appeal by the Supreme Court. It does not suffice that this Court is already precluded from disturbing them by the express railings of John Marshall and Roger B. Taney. In view of the well-known fact that a majority of the Judges now composing that Court are intensely hostile to the policy of Congress, it would be treason to humanity to leave that majority a chance for defying the reason and conscience of Christendom with another Dred Scott decision. The Federal Constitution (Art. III, § 2) explicitly empowers Congress to except classes of cases from the appellate jurisdiction of that Court; and here is a class which plainly ought to be excepted, unless it is meet and proper that a vote of five hostile politicians against it should overbear and nullify the legisla-tion which has been carried in Congress by a vote of three to one. It is not enough that the Court ought not to in-interfere. Let us "make assurance doubly sure, and take a bond of Fate."

The Bondholders Threatened by their Priends: The Mongrels in Congress are throat-ening the bondholders. Sherman's bill has been liberally pruned; many of its Provisions have been stricken out by the Senate Finance Committee, but action apon it will be postponed for a short time. Meanwhile, Senator Henderson's bill has been taken up in connection with Sherman's, and discussed by the Committee. Henderson tells the bond-holders that they should at once convert their securities into long 3) per cent. bonds, principal and interest in gold, rather than run the risk of being forced finally to take currency by the action of the country at large. The penalty is held up to the bondholders by their own party leaders. "Secure yourselves by exchanging now your five and six persons to be the penalty and the penalty in currency." centa, probably payable in currency, for the proposed three and a half per cent, payable principal and interest in gold, at some future specified time. Strike now, if you would specified time. Strike now, if you would save your plunder; hesitate, and you are lost. The annual rate of increase in national wealth will not justify a figure higher than four per cent per year, at any rate." While we hold to the opinion that the country will be ruised in attempting to pay even two per cent. per year on the great debt, and do not go into that discussion now, we merely set the bondholders how they like the semi-repudiation move made by their own party? A little figuring will show them that offering a three and a bull per cent, hond for a six per cent, is equal to an offer of some fifty-eight deliars on the one hundred for the bonds. INSURANCE COMPANY,

THE total amount covered by the Etha Politics on property destroyed or damaged is $206,854, on which salvage will be about five per cent. Our total loss will not yary much from $200,000, and was premptly adjusted and paid. This sum is five per cent, upon the Company's assets, a figure but slightly exceeding our Government and State taxes paid last year, or a proportion equal to a $5,000 less for a company of $100,000 assets.

The necessity for insurance and the value of wealthy, strong corporations is foreibly illustrated by this fire. Several weak insurance companies are destroyed. Portiand has a population of $5,000 was handsomely built, mostly fine brick or stone structure—protected and screened with greated $2,000 shade trees-bounded on three sides by water—indeed, literally, almost rising from the ocean—and with a steam fire department—yet it has $10,000,000 of property consumed in a few hours—upon a holiday when its people are least corupled—from the very insignificant cause of a contemptible firecracker.

Remember the trifling origin of fires that sweep away in a few hours the earnings of years. Consider your best interest and sive the Aina Agent a call if you need proper insurance security. Pay a fair rate of premium for a good and genuine article, and with their lights and experiences before you, procure your insurance with shrewd judgment.
